School Days

There goes the bell again. You gather books and head to your next class. Seems like that's the only thing you do in school. Then you remember that you have sports, teachers, and friends to lighten the burden of school. These are propably the most fun things at school.

Sports are some fun things to do at shcool. For example, football. Football is fun to play, you have plenty of friends playing, and its good for your health. There are other sports like this such as: kickball, baseball, soccer, and basketball. All of these things are fun things to do at school.

Teachers are also good to have at shool. Good teachers mean fun in class, better learning enviroment and better learning altogether. You might like some teachers more than others and that's okay because, they're there for one reason alone, to teach children.

And last but not least is friends. Friends are people who can relieve your stress and can talk to you when your feeling down. Friends are people who can help with school work and problems at school where you really need them.

As you just read, those are some great things about shool. Sports, teachers, and friends mold and shape you in school to help you grow into a better person.
