

Video games and television shows have encouraged younger people and ~~the~~ ^{some} for many adults to become more violent. Many reasons supporting this position are such games with violence influences child to act as they would in the game, it also encourage adults to react with such violence as well.

The main reason ~~is~~ that video games has influenced violence, would be the action that takes place

G-3

Score Point: 1

This response reflects fundamental deficiencies in persuasive writing skills. The writer agrees that video games and television shows contribute to the rise of violent crime. The idea that video games make people “act as they would in the game” is stated; however, no elaboration or details are provided to support this position.