Frozen Head State Park and Natural Area in Wartburg, TN is hosting its 29th Annual Heritage Day Festival Saturday, August 15, 2009 from 11:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. EDT

Heritage Day is a celebration of traditional Appalachian music and crafts centered around the people who make them. Throughout the day live bluegrass music will be featured and demonstrators from around the region will be engaging in their crafts and live demonstrations that span the generations, from 18th Century Long Hunter programs to an antique tractor and farm equipment show.

In addition to live music and demonstrations; crafters will have their various wares for sale and food vendors will be on site. There will also be nature activities and games for people of all ages and a park hayride throughout the day. Best of all admission is free, so bring the entire family and spend a Saturday with us at Frozen Head State Park and Natural Area.
