State SIM Population Health Improvement Meeting

- The Governor's Office, TennCare, the Tennessee Department of Health and five schools of public health are working together to develop regional population health improvement plans for Tennessee's State Innovation Model (SIM) Cooperative Agreement with the U.S. Center for Medicare and Medicaid Innovation (CMMI)
- These regional plans will roll up into Tennessee's new statewide population health improvement plan that will be submitted to CMS and the CDC, as well as to the Governor as part of this year's update to the State Health Plan.
- On March 3-4, 2016, a 1.5 day meeting will be held in Nashville where each of the 5 public health schools will present their regional population health improvement plans to each other, and to an audience of state attendees, and engage in round-table discussions on how we can effectively scale these plans to the state level. The plans provide evidence-based recommendations for primary prevention strategies to improve Tennessee's population health in the areas of perinatal health, child health, tobacco cessation, diabetes and obesity.
