

Chris Padgett is the West Tennessee Park Area Manager for Tennessee State Parks. He oversees the management and operation of 27 state parks. He provides supervision and operational guidance to the park managers, helping ensure that each park preserves its resources and provides safe, quality, outdoor experiences to its visitors.

Chris received his bachelor's degree from Murray State University and is a graduate of the National Association of State Park Directors Leadership School facilitated by North Carolina State University. He serves on the scholarship committee for the Tennessee Park Rangers Association with the goal of creating future leaders and managers within Tennessee State Parks.
