

GREAT LEADERS...THOUGHTS BY DEREK

"Great leaders use great lenses to learn great lessons! The members of the inaugural LEAD classes, their leaders and members of the LEAD Executive Council are to be congratulated for their commitment to self-improvement. Through their initial consumption of their 360-degree feedback and coaching session, the LEAD participants have identified specific areas of focus and developed goals to improve accordingly. Their willingness to seek and leverage advice from Executive Coaches will not only accelerate their growth and development, but it will set a high standard for raising self-awareness among their teams."
