

Dr. Gary Peevely joined the University of Tennessee, Institute of Public Service in July of 2013. He directs the Naifeh Center for Effective Leadership which provides services for the Tennessee Government Executive (TGEI) and Tennessee Government Management (TGMI) programs as well as other leadership based programs for local and state leaders. He is a native of Claiborne County Tennessee and received his doctorate from UT Knoxville. His experience includes public school teacher, principal and superintendent as well as service with the Kentucky Department of Education. He has served as a research director and director for two Tennessee Board of Regents based Centers of Excellence. Dr. Peevely is a former professor who helped design and implement a multidisciplinary leadership based doctoral program of studies. He and his wife Karen live at Norris Lake in Campbell County, TN.