

NEW TWRA HARVEST REPORTING PROCEDURE FAQ's

1. Why is TWRA changing tagging regulations?

When we added the new TWRA Mobile Application for smartphones and tablets, the previous kill tag requirements were no longer compatible with the changes that were made.

2. Where is my temporary kill tag?

Temporary kill tags have been replaced with harvest logs.

3. What do I need to fill out to transport an animal from the field?

Nothing.

4. How do I report a harvest?

You can still use traditional check-in stations, the internet, or the new TWRA Mobile Application.

5. When do I report a harvest?

Big game animals must be checked in by the end of the calendar day.

6. What do I need to provide a taxidermist?

A harvest confirmation number documented on an approved TWRA form or TWRA Mobile Application in addition to other information that taxidermist are required to collect.

7. What do I need to provide to a meat processor?

A harvest confirmation number documented on an approved TWRA form or TWRA Mobile Application.

8. Regarding harvest reporting, what is an approved TWRA form?

For harvest reporting, TWRA approved forms are a TWRA Harvest Log, confirmation receipt from a check station, printed screen shot of internet check-in, or the Harvest Log and Diary from the TWRA mobile application.

9. Am I allowed to check-in a big game animal via the TWRA Mobile Application while in the field and continue hunting?

Yes.

10. How many big game animals can I document on one harvest log?

As many as the approved TWRA harvest log allows.

Additional harvest logs are available on the TWRA website.

11. Can I use multiple logs if I harvest more big game animals than one log will support?

Yes.
